

Have you seen foxes in your local area?

FoxScan is a website for landholders and the community to record fox activity and problems.

- You can record sightings, damage, and control activities such as trapping or baiting.
- Work together to identify priority areas for integrated fox control.
- Create an online group for your landholders to work control.
- Keep local authorities informed automatically.

www.foxscan.org.au

Download the FeralScan App.

Further information, email feralscan@feralscan.org.au

