Record Rabbit activity in RabbitScan

Are Wild Rabbits causing problems in your local area?

Record information into RabbitScan to help protect farmers and biodiversity.

RabbitScan is a free community resource for monitoring, mapping and managing wild rabbits. People are using RabbitScan to record wild rabbit activity and coordinate local control programs. It can be used by landholders, community groups, local government, pest controllers and biosecurity organisations. Please read the instructions below to use the website, map and Phone App. Please print this information as needed.

How to use the website – www.rabbitscan.org.au

The RabbitScan website contains everything you need to know about using the resource, plus a helpful glovebox guide. The following link contains instructions on how to use the website, including how to add a new record, view your own records, and how to view record from members in your local landholder group.
